B A C K G R O U N D:

A. The Haycock Township Board of Supervisors ("Board") has, by Ordinance No. 97, enacted on June 28, 2004 and effective on July 2, 2004, adopted by reference the Pennsylvania Uniform Construction Code [34 Pa. Code §401.1 et seq.] (the "Code") as the building code of Haycock Township;

B. On July 15, 2004, the Pennsylvania General Assembly enacted Act 93 of 2004 ("Act 93"), which amended the Code to re-define "utility and miscellaneous use structures" as specific accessory structures having a building area of less than 1,000 square feet. Such structures were previously defined as having a building area of less than 500 square feet;

C. Act 93 allows municipalities that enact ordinances electing to administer and enforce the Code in their jurisdiction to adopt stricter Code standards and regulations pertaining to "utility and miscellaneous use structures" regardless of size;

D. Ordinance No. 97 exempted utility and miscellaneous use structures from the Code and from the requirement of obtaining a building permit only if the structure had a building area of less than 500 square feet. The Board wishes to set the square foot exemption limitation for utility and miscellaneous use structures at less than 1,000 square feet;

E. The Board also wishes to amend Schedule A to Ordinance No. 97 to correct a typographical error to accurately reflect that certain activity is exempt from the Code's scope; and by Haycock Township do not apply to utility and miscellaneous use structures that have a building area of less than 1,000 square feet. Utility and miscellaneous use structures equaling or exceeding 1,000 square feet in building area must comply with the provisions of the Code, this Ordinance and Schedule "A."

Section 02: The introductory sentences of Section 403.62(c), Permits and Exemption – Residential Construction, of Schedule A, Modifiable Provisions, to Ordinance No. 97 are amended in full to read as follows:
